The image shows a modern interior space, likely a lecture hall or auditorium, with a prominent staircase and a large wall display. The staircase, located in the upper left, has a white frame and glass railings, illuminated by blue light. The wall on the left features the text "EARTH OBSERVATION CENTER" in large, white, sans-serif capital letters. Below this text, there is a small logo and the text "Open House 2014". The floor is dark, and the walls are white. In the foreground, there are rows of dark chairs facing a stage area. The stage area has a white backdrop and a podium. Two potted plants are on the stage. The overall lighting is a mix of blue and white, creating a modern and professional atmosphere.
